1. ABOUT THE BLP GUIDE

The Building and Land Use Permit Guide explains how to prepare and submit an application and the procedures involved in determining the application. It provides a simple, step by step guide to applicants, persons involved in preparation of plans/projects for development and to officers of Local Authorities involved in the processing of applications.

You can use this Guide as a check list for completing your plans and other supporting documentation. If your application contains all the required information, documents and particulars, the Local Authority can determine it without delay.

You are strongly advised to apply for your Building & Land Use Permit (BLP) online. The online application system has been upgraded with some new functionality and features. You will need to register first to be able to apply online on the local government portal at: - <http://la.govmu.org>

Any questions?

If you need more information or advice, come and speak to the trained staff in the Land Use and Planning Department of your Local Authority.

We strongly recommend that you discuss your proposal during normal office hours with planners of the Local Authority before submitting your application.

The Local Government Act, the Building Control Act, the Town and Country Planning Act and the Environment Protection Act as well as guidelines prepared under these Act, provide the basis of self-adherence to planning and building legislation, regulation, norms and guidelines.

3. WHAT IS EXEMPT DEVELOPMENT?

Exempt development is a development that does not require a BLP:-

(A) Small scale enterprise/office activity that is carried out in the home without modification of the dwelling is exempt development that does not require a BLP provided the following criteria are satisfied –

- Daily vehicle movements associated with the enterprise are limited (less than 8 vehicles movements in total, to and from the site);
- There would be no adverse external nuisance such as noise, dust, fumes, vibration etc.;
- Loading and unloading are not disruptive to the amenity of the surrounding residential neighborhood;
- Operator of enterprise should normally reside on the premises and the number of staff employed on site is small (typically less than 3 in total)
- Adequate parking is available for staff and visitors;
- All materials can be safely stored on site and stored materials are not unduly visible or intrusive in the street scene.

(B) For the setting up of a greenhouse for crop cultivation in agricultural land.

4. DO YOU NEED A BLP?

(A) Under Section 117(2) of the Local Government Act 2011 “every person who intends to

- (i) Commence the construction or demolition of a building or effect Extensive alterations, additions or repairs to an existing building:

THE BUILDING AND LAND USE PERMIT GUIDE

Shall apply to the Municipal City Council, Municipal town Council or District Council, as the case may be, for an Outline Planning permission or a Building and Land Use Permit”

(B) A change in Cluster as per the Eleventh Schedule of the Local Government Act 2011 would require a Building and Land Use Permit.

Important Note:- Industrial uses such as metal workshops, panel beating and spray painting, manufacture furniture and vehicles are not normally acceptable uses within residential area

You would not require a BLP if you satisfy the following criteria:

- You are carrying out an Exempt Development as defined above. If you change the use of a building within the same cluster except Sui Generis. and your change of economic activity within the same cluster does not result in:–
 - (i) direct or indirect dangerous or congested traffic conditions on any nearby street or road;
 - (ii) adverse external nuisance such as noise, dust, smell, fumes, soot, ash, vibration or any other similar nuisance;
 - (iii) loading and unloading causing disruption to the amenity of the surrounding neighborhood;
 - (iv) inadequate parking on site for staff and visitors; or
 - (v) Unsafe storage of materials.

5. WHAT IS AN OUTLINE PLANNING PERMISSION (OPP)?

As per the Town & Country Planning Act (as amended) “an Outline Planning Permission is a permission for the development of land sought from a local authority at an early stage and irrespective of whether a Building and Land Use Permit is to be granted or not and before any substantial costs are incurred in relation to the development of the land.”

An application for an OPP is generally made to find out at an early stage, whether or not a proposal is likely to be approved by a LA, before any substantial cost are incurred (e.g. cost of services of an architect ,engineer etc., acquisition of the site or land conversion). An OPP application allows fewer details about the proposal to be submitted. When granting an OPP, the LA will normally specify the “reserved matters” which will be submitted at the BLP application stage.

It is a good idea to talk to the LA about how much information might need to be included before you submit your OPP application.

An OPP does not authorize the holder to start work on the land to which the application relates until and unless a BLP is issued for the reserved matters.

10. TO MAKE AN APPLICATION FOR A BUILDING & LAND USE PERMIT

Follow these 5 steps:

(a) Check the PPG Guideline applicable to your proposed development

(b) Prepare plans and drawings as per specifications given to you in the BLP guide & gather all necessary documents

(c) Fill in Parts A and B of the application form as follows:

Part A needs to be filled in and signed by the applicant and the owner of the site (if applicant is not the owner). You need to give accurate information on the exact nature of your proposed development to help the LA deal promptly with the application.

(d) Comply with notification procedures where required and submit proof thereof.

(e) Submit your application form with all necessary information, documents and particulars.

Note that in accordance with section 117 of the Local Government Act 2011, every application for a BLP has to be in accordance with:

- a) the Building Control Act 2012;
- b) the Town and Country Planning Act;
- c) the Planning and Development Act 2004;
- d) the Environment Protection Act; and,
- e) the Mauritius Fire and Rescue Service Act
- f) Any guidelines issued under the above Acts.

The above five steps are detailed hereunder:

Step 1

The first step in preparing a BLP application is to find out about the policies and guidelines, which apply to your specific development which could fall under the following categories–

- (i) Residential including residential apartments/tall buildings
- (ii) Commercial/services
- (iii) Microenterprises/Small Enterprises
- (iv) Industrial/Sui Generis
- (v) Excision/Subdivision of land among heirs

Please refer to the relevant guidelines in this document before preparing your plans.

Step 2: Prepare plans and drawings

(A) Which plans?

The following is a general guide to the type of plans you will need to prepare.

(i) Location / Context Plan

Required for all applications and with specific details for commercial, industrial, services and small enterprise projects as specified in the checklist below.

(ii) Site Analysis Plan

Required for all applications which involve construction/development/change of use.

(iii) Scaled Plans and elevations

Required for all applications which involve construction and preferably on A4 or A3 size.

(iv) Survey Plan and Subdivision Plan as per Cadastral Survey Act

Required for applications for excision of land/subdivision among heirs.

(v) Section and Evacuation Plans

Required for all applications which involve construction.

(vi) Structural plans and structural details as per the Building Control Act

Required for all applications which involve construction.

(B) Design Process

The design of a development layout involves consideration of the following issues:

- Analyzing the site context
- Determining the appropriate intensity of development
- Establishing the broad framework, including consideration of connectivity and cohesiveness
- Establishing development types and plot sizes
- Determining the requirements for community facilities

- Incorporating traffic management systems
- Planning for visual and acoustic privacy

(C) How do you calculate plot coverage?

When calculating coverage, all enclosed spaces on the ground floor shall be taken as 100% of their area on plan, measured to the external face of the external walls. In the case of verandahs, porches, car parks and similar uses, they should be included within coverage if they are covered by a roof.

Where the verandah, porch, car park is backed by no more than one wall, the area should be included as 50% of its plan area in the coverage calculation. If backed or enclosed by two or more walls the whole area shall be included in the coverage calculation.

(D) Checklist

The following checklist will guide you on what information is required on your plans. Be sure you show all the details that are relevant to your proposal.

(i) Title Block

You must include a title block on every plan showing:

- ✓ Name and signature of service provider/s. (surveyor, architect, engineer, draughtsman, planner)
- ✓ Plan number, plan description, scale and date.
- ✓ Name of applicant.
- ✓ Amendment number and date (if relevant).

- ✓ Location and description of property.
- ✓ Description of project

(ii) Orientation

Include a north point on every plan. This will help us relate your plans to the site.

(iii) Scale

Show the scale as specified in the application form on every plan and ensure all plans are drawn to standard metric scale.

(iv) Layout Plans

Show uses of all rooms.

(v) Levels

Your plans and elevations must show relevant information including contours (where applicable), ground levels, and roof levels.

(vi) Location Plan

Accurate location plan, showing distance of site from specific or prominent landmarks to be submitted. For COMM/INDU/SE/SERV Projects, location plans should show all existing buildings/development in the immediate vicinity of the site (on side, rear boundaries and on opposite side) with details on the height, setbacks and character of buildings in that area. This will help the Authorities to determine whether flexibility to guidelines in the PPG can be applied.

(vii) Site Plan

Must show -

- ✓ Existing and proposed buildings on the site, including setbacks (in metres) from boundaries, front and rear entrances and current uses.
- ✓ Outline of buildings to be shown (not roof plan).
- ✓ Fences, walls, swimming pools.
- ✓ Street frontage features – poles, trees, kerbs, crossings, handrails, drains, etc...
- ✓ Vehicular access to site in a safe location where visibility is good and visibility splays provided.
- ✓ Provision for on-site parking and no reversing onto A or B road.

(viii) How do you calculate Floor Area Ratio (FAR) applicable to commercial buildings in major centres?

FAR is a factor that relates the sum of the gross enclosed area of all the floors of the development, to the area of the site. A FAR value therefore dictates the total development bulk permitted on a site.

For calculating FAR, the following areas are excluded -

- Building services, sited in basements, on purely 'service' floors, or on roof tops; Basement car parks; and

- Light weight balconies (whether covered by a roof or not).
- The well of an internal atrium is to be taken at half the plan area for each floor, but any surrounding corridors are to be calculated at full area.

Step 3: Filling the application form

PART A

The following on the application form require particular attention:

1. Owner's consent/signature

You must obtain the consent of the land owner if you are not the owner. If there is more than one landowner, signatures of all owners are required. If the application form is not signed by the landowners and by you as the applicant, the application will not be accepted.

2. Proposed development

You must describe the proposed development in detail. Tell us exactly what you propose to do. If you cannot fully describe your proposal in the space provided on the application form, you will need to include a full description on a separate sheet, which needs to be properly signed and dated by you.

PART B

Part B of the form will have to be filled in by the Service Provider- and this will enable you to know the amount of BLP fees payable on collection of your permit.

Step 4: Notification procedures

- 1. Notification procedures are required for applications relating to -
 - (a) Commercial/Industrial, services, Small Enterprises & Handicraft Enterprise and Sui Generis proposed within residential areas;
